BAISAKHI

Baisakhi is a radiant tribute to the Earth's bounty and the tireless hands that coax life from the soil. As the golden wheat sways, we celebrate abundance and fresh beginnings. Marking the rabi harvest, it is a day when farmers offer thanks to the universe for a generous yield. For Sikhs, Baisakhi bears the historic weight—the founding of the Khalsa Panth in the year 1699—and stands as an enduring emblem of courage, equality, and collective resolve. Today, the festival unites communities in joyous service; the festive dhol beats urge us towards purpose and bravery, while acts of Seva teach selfless giving. For children, Baisakhi is a lesson in gratitude, hard work, and teamwork—reminding us that honest effort, shared strength, and a grateful heart reap the richest rewards. It encourages unity, responsibility, optimism, discipline, respect, harmony, and shared cultural pride. Such celebrations nurture values that shape mindful citizens.

BUDDH PURNIMA

Buddh Purnima is unique because it commemorates three major events in the life of Gautama Buddha that all occurred on the same full moon day.

Birth : His arrival as Prince Siddhartha in Lumbini.

Enlightenment : The moment he became the Awakened One under the Bodhi Tree.

Mahaparinirvana : His passing and final liberation from the cycle of life.

Impactful Point : It symbolizes that one's beginning, growth, and end can all be part of a single, enlightened journey. Buddh Purnima, also known as Vesak or Buddh Jayanti, is the most sacred festival for Buddhists and seekers of peace worldwide. It is observed on the full moon day of the Hindu month of Vaisakh. Beyond the festivities, Buddh Purnima celebrates the triumph of knowledge over ignorance.

WORLD YOGA DAY

Yoga, a 5,000-year-old practice, teaches children to breathe, focus, and face life with calm courage. Beyond stretching, it sharpens the intellect, steadies emotions, and cultivates mindfulness—the art of staying present and positive. On the longest day of the year, we roll out our mats to celebrate harmony between thought and action, learning that small daily habits build strong bodies and peaceful minds. For students, Yoga is a playful discipline: a quiet warrior's training that improves concentration, eases exam stress, and nurtures kindness. Let us pledge to practice with joy, so every breath becomes a lesson in balance, every pose a step towards a brighter, braver self. Together, we learn patience, discipline, and respect for our bodies. Yoga builds resilience, self-awareness, and gratitude in life. These values guide students beyond classrooms. It encourages a healthy body, a calm mind, and a balanced life.

JAGANNATH RATH YATRA

Rath Yatra, the majestic festival of chariots from Puri, honours Lord Jagannath, his brother Balabhadra, and his sister Subhadra as they journey to the Gundicha Temple, stepping beyond the shrine's walls to bless every devotee. Each year, artisans raise three towering wooden chariots—Nandighosa (Jagannath), Taladhwaja (Balabhadra), and Darpadala (Subhadra)—and thousands join hands to pull their ropes. For children, this spectacle is a living lesson: when hearts unite with devotion and purpose, even the heaviest burdens move. The procession teaches teamwork, courage, and inclusivity, showing that faith walks into life. It inspires humility, shared responsibility, and respect for tradition. The festival reminds society that devotion grows stronger when celebrated together, beyond barriers, with joy, service, and collective resolve. These values guide learners towards harmony, empathy, and purposeful action every day, universally. It strengthens unity, faith, hope, learning, responsibility, and moral values.

JANMASHTAMI

Janmashtami isn't just a birthday; it's the anniversary of the arrival of a protector. Janmashtami celebrates the birth of Lord Krishna, the eighth avatar of Vishnu, born on a storm-laden night to restore peace and righteousness. To us, Krishna is the 'Jagadguru'—the universal teacher. His life teaches us the value of friendship, the power of courage, and the importance of performing our duty with grace and joy. As we see the Dahi Handi being broken, it reminds us that with teamwork and persistence, no height is too great to reach. May the flute of Shri Krishna fill our hearts with the melody of love and wisdom. The peacock feather represents the beauty and many colours of life. Janmashtami, the birth of the Divine Flutist, is a reminder that light can be born in the darkest of prisons, whether as the playful 'Makhan Chor', the lifter of Govardhan, or the wise guide of Arjun, Lord Krishna inspires us to fight for justice and live with joy. May this sacred celebration guide our students to walk the path of righteousness and faith.

VIJAYADASHAMI

Vijayadashami, crowns Navratri, celebrating Rama's victory over Ravana and Durga's triumph over Mahishasura. The festival teaches students important moral lessons: humility over pride, integrity over cleverness, and courage tempered by compassion. The burning of Ravana's effigy symbolizes the inner transformation, while Rama's long exile and the Vanar Sena's unity show that patience, teamwork, and duty can conquer great trials, whether in school life or elsewhere. Observed as an auspicious moment to begin learning, Vijayadashami kindles ethical wisdom—curiosity guided by conscience, knowledge balanced by humility, and hearts ready to serve. It inspires students to uphold righteousness in daily life, cherish truth and justice, and face challenges with courage. The festival brings families and communities together in joy and celebration. It encourages discipline, moral strength, and respect for values. These teachings guide students towards responsible and meaningful living.

DEEPAWALI

Deepawali, the Festival of Lights, is more than lamps; it calls to renew the spirit, bind communities, and restore cosmic order. It celebrates Dharma over adharma, light over darkness, and knowledge over ignorance. Lighting a diya is a promise to kindle inner wisdom that banishes ego, greed, and fear. For students, Deepawali teaches: seek Vidya and Viveka with humility, courage, and compassion.

CHHATH POOJA

An ancient Vedic celebration, Chhath Puja venerates Surya—the eternal Sun—and Chhathi Maiya, goddess of sustenance. Observed with reverence in Bihar, Jharkhand, and Uttar Pradesh, it is among India's most soulful festivals. Over four days, devotees embrace fasting, ritual bathing, and offering Arghya to the setting and rising sun. Chhath teaches balance, patience, and respect for nature. For students, it reminds that setbacks prepare the dawn of success, and knowledge shines equally for all.

CHRISTMAS

Beyond tinsel and carols, Christmas kindles the birth of hope and the grace of selfless giving. More than gifts beneath a tree, its true treasures dwell in hearts that reach out. Celebrated on December 25, it honours the nativity of Jesus while embracing universal themes of light, warmth, and generosity. Chosen in the fourth century to echo winter-solstice symbolism, Christmas proclaims light amid darkness. For students, it becomes a teaching moment—resilience when exams press, compassion when peers struggle, and the steady star of hope that guides every weary heart. The air is crisp, bells ring, and Central Academy gathers in laughter and love to celebrate the season. Families share stories, teachers inspire creativity, and the joy of giving brightens every classroom, reminding all that the spirit of Christmas lives in acts of kindness and togetherness. It teaches unity, empathy, gratitude, and peace. These values inspire students to spread love and goodwill daily.

REPUBLIC DAY

On 26th January 1950, India transformed from a colony into a Republic, governed by a Constitution that offers every citizen the dignity of choice. For students, this day is a reminder that we are the future guardians of these values. Celebrating Republic Day is not just about unfurling the Tricolour; it is about reflecting on our duties, respecting the rule of law, and nurturing unity, equality, and justice for all citizens in every action we take.

MAKAR SANKRANTI

Makar Sankranti marks the end of long winter nights and the beginning of warmer, sunnier days as the Sun enters the zodiac sign of Makara (Capricorn). It is a festival of transition, teaching us that change is the only constant in life while celebrating nature's bounty. We fly kites, share sweets & perseverance, and the joy of giving, inspiring students to reach new heights with hard work, values, and optimism.

BASANT PANCHAMI

Basant Panchami heralds nature's bloom and the mind's awakening. Draped in saffron and yellow—the mustard fields, sunlight, and wisdom—we venerate Maa Saraswati, goddess of learning. Pens, books, and musical instruments are placed at her feet as humble offerings, seeking clarity of thought and the eloquence of expression. Like flowers unfurling after winter, the festival urges us to shed old habits and begin our studies with renewed zeal. Seated on a white swan, the Goddess teaches discernment between right and wrong. By honouring our books, teachers, and libraries, we celebrate the luminous benediction of Basant Panchami, which dispels ignorance and kindles the lifelong flame of knowledge. Every home and school resonates with prayers, songs, and joyous rituals, inviting inspiration, creativity, and wisdom into all hearts. It encourages discipline, curiosity, and respect for learning. May this festival inspire dedication, humility, and lifelong learning in every learner.

HOLI

Holi is more than a festival of colours; it celebrates the triumph of good over evil and the joyful arrival of spring. The festival inspires us to forgive past mistakes, share laughter and spread happiness. As colours unite, Holi reminds students to cherish togetherness, respect diversity, and begin new seasons with hope, harmony, positivity, and renewed friendships for peaceful hearts, joyful minds, and unity.

MAHA SHIVRATRI

Maha Shivratri, the Great Night of Shiva, symbolizes the victory of wisdom over ignorance. While the world sleeps, seekers rise. Shiva's third eye is a symbol for students, representing deeper vision and true knowledge. The festival teaches equanimity—staying balanced during the storms of life and exams. Let us celebrate Maha Shivratri by reflecting, meditating, embracing simplicity, and wisdom.
